National Museum of Singapore

With a history dating back to 1887, the National Museum of Singapore is the nation's oldest museum with a progressive mind. It redefines the conventional museum experience by exploring multiple perspectives of history and cutting-edge presentations. A cultural and architectural landmark in Singapore, the museum hosts innovative festivals and events—the dynamic Singapore Heritage Festival and Singapore Night Festival—as well as art installations, performances and film screenings all year round, in addition to presenting thought-provoking exhibitions that feature important artefact collections. The programming is supported by a wide range of facilities and services including F&B, retail and a Resource Centre.

The National Museum of Singapore re-opened in December 2006 after a three-year redevelopment, and celebrated its 125th anniversary in 2012. The museum's permanent galleries were revamped and re-opened in September 2015. Refreshed with updated stories and content on Singapore's history, the galleries recapture the nation's defining moments, challenges and achievements from its earliest beginnings 700 years ago to the independent, modern city-state it is today.

Come experience the National Museum and take another look at Singapore's history.

Main Exhibitions

Level 1 SINGAPORE HISTORY GALLERY

The Singapore History Gallery's updated narrative charts the development of the island as it was known through the years as Singapura, a Crown Colony, Syonan-To, and finally, Singapore. This gallery chronicles Singapore's journey from our earliest beginnings 700 years ago to the colonial days, to the Japanese Occupation and post-war struggles, and to the global city we enjoy today.

Level 2 LIFE IN SINGAPORE: THE PAST 100 YEARS

Spanning the last 100 years, these four galleries present snapshots of everyday life through the different eras in Singapore's history. Discover how modern and progressive people were during the colonial times in the 1920s–1930s in the Modern Colony gallery. Gain a deeper appreciation for the resourcefulness and resilience of those who found hope and love in the Surviving Syonan gallery, which looks at the years of the Japanese Occupation. See the 1950–1960s through the eyes of a child growing up alongside the nation in the Growing Up gallery, which captures the dreams and aspirations of a generation. Self-expression and creativity take the front seat in Voices of Singapore, which explores how a new, confident, Singaporean identity emerged in the 1970–1980s.

GOH SENG CHOO GALLERY: DESIRE AND DANGER

Discover the fine line between Desire and Danger at this stimulating exhibition at the Goh Seng Choo Gallery. Featuring creatures that arouse appetites and instil fear, and exotic plants sought for their ability to induce pleasure or pain, this selection of drawings from the William Farquhar Collection of Natural History Drawings explores the complex and sometimes uneasy relationship between man and nature.

GLASS ROTUNDA: STORY OF THE FOREST AND SINGAPORE, VERY OLD TREE

The National Museum of Singapore's Glass Rotunda offers visitors the option of beginning their experience of the Singapore History Gallery with two new permanent art installations.

The first installation is a commissioned work titled Story of the Forest, a larger-than-life interactive digital art installation created by internationally renowned Japanese art collective teamLab. The installation is inspired by the William Farquhar Collection of Natural History Drawings, and utilises cutting-edge technology to transform 69 drawings from the collection into animated illustrations, which will come to life and interact with visitors as they make their way down the Glass Rotunda.

At the end of their multimedia journey, visitors will view a photography exhibit titled Singapore, Very Old Tree by Singaporean artist Robert Zhao that explores the personal connections that Singaporeans have with our local trees through 17 images of trees around Singapore, before they continue to explore the Singapore History Gallery.

ART OF THE REHEARSAL

Gallery10

Free admission

Art of the Rehearsal by Sarah Choo Jing

Art of the Rehearsal is a three-channel immersive video installation by multidisciplinary artist Sarah Choo Jing. This artwork depicts Singaporean dancers across various cultures practicing along the back lanes of cultural districts in the city. Reflecting on the rigorous and intense training behind the performance, the artist seeks to bring out the consistent determination of the performers. The emphasis of the installation work is on the process rather than on the final outcome.

The dance performance in the video is presented by Apsaras Arts Ltd, Era Dance Theatre and Singapore Hokkien Huay Kuan Dance Theatre.

WINGS OF A RICH MANOEUVRE

Glass Atrium

Free admission

Wings of a Rich Manoeuvre by Suzann Victor

Wings of a Rich Manoeuvre by homegrown artist Suzann Victor presents a chorus of eight kinetic chandeliers that “sing” with movement as they sway in a dramatic mid-air choreography of light. Each chandelier is constructed and shaped from stainless steel and studded with a sparkling array of precision-cut Swarovski crystals accentuated by LED light. Together, the chandeliers create breathtaking aerial calligraphy as they morph from one hypnotic pattern to another, high above the bridge linking the National Museum’s original 19th-century colonial building with its modern futuristic glass wing.
